«..these guys are ferocious, loud, and energetic, yet they still manage to keep their music raw and interesting.»

- Filter Magazine

«...it's both familiar and new, it pushes buttons and it gives you that feeling that you had the first time you disobeyed your parents.»

- Exitfare

«That large, booming rock noise you hear coming from Norway is very likely Simon Says No!»

- Clicky Clicky Music Blog

Simon Says No! is a band who knows their strengths and how to get the most out of them. Their raw sound recalls the glory days of Seattle grunge and the spirit of '77 in London, but the band is nuanced enough to flesh things out with a fuzziness that wouldn't seem out of place at a Slowdive or My Bloody Valentine gig.

2010 is leading up to be a great year with the main focus on putting the last touch to the debut album that has been produced with help of Nick Terry (The Libertines, Klaxons, Serena Maneesh) and Michael Patterson (Black Rebel Motorcycle Club, Ladytron). The debut EP "Ahoi de Angst" contains the song "Shiver" that was synced into the very popular UK series Skins.
